Charleston WATERKEEPER® to Host Fundraiser at Downtown Warehouse

Celebrating clean water, the organization’s one-year anniversary and the WTF (Water the Future) Campaign

Charleston, SC - On December 3, 2009, local non-profit organization, Charleston Waterkeeper, will host its first annual fundraising party at the Eye Level Art Warehouse on Heriot Street. In honor and recognition of the organization’s one-year anniversary and the launch of the WTF (Water the Future) campaign, the party will feature a variety of innovative components designed to educate, entertain and inspire the audience. Displays include light projections, an inflatable video dome, art installations and a touch tank featuring local marine life. DC based DJ duo, Party on Marz, will be supplying music throughout the night while guests enjoy light hors d’oeuvres and beverages sponsored in part by New Belgium Brewing Company. All funds raised from the event will benefit Charleston Waterkeeper’s efforts to protect the public’s right to clean water.

WHY: The event’s goal is to introduce Charleston Waterkeeper to the local community, educate the public about their rights to clean water and the issues that are infringing on those rights, to engage the public and to encourage them to get involved with Charleston Waterkeeper and to raise money for the organization’s efforts.

Charleston Waterkeeper is a citizen-based, environmental organization committed to defending local waterways against pollution, while protecting the public’s right to clean water. As part investigator, scientist, lawyer, educator and community organizer, Charleston Waterkeeper strives to improve the quality of Charleston’s waterways. Our waterways have been given to us all of us in trust that we, the public, will watch over and protect these natural resources. As a member of the WATERKEEPER® ALLIANCE, Charleston Waterkeeper is one of nearly 200 other Waterkeeper programs around the world dedicated to clean water and strong communities.
